The Crooks, Chesley, Smallwood and Tyler Families.

In collaboration with Mrs. D.O. Crooks of Crooks, S.D this genealogy of the Crooks family has been compiled. It is the paternal line of Judith Carol Crooks, our grand-daughter, the daughter of Robert H. and Ruth (Spurling) Crooks, born in Sioux Falls, S.D. on Sept. 6, 1941.

Mrs. Crooks was most successful in collecting the data of the descendants of John Nelson Crooks, and of the Smallwood and Tyler families as well. And the tracing of the ancestral lines was a matter of research in New Hampshire and Mass. records.

It has been most interesting to trace the track of the Crooks generations - going north from Hopkinton, Mass to Littleton, N.H. and on into Canada where they met up with the Chesley family.

The Chesleys had helped settle Oyster River, now Durham, N.H. but the record of their move into Canada has somehow eluded us. We do know, however, that two of the Chesleys came to Wisconsin with the Crooks family.

The Tyler family was in Green Co. Wisconsin in 1852, when a son was born, and moved into Bremer Co. Ia. the next year or so. The Crooks family did not go to Decorah, Iowa until 1867 - whether they knew the Tylers before going to Iowa is a question. However both families moved west to Minnehaha Co. S.D. around 1873, and from there the descendants have scattered widely.

Thornton Barrett, Micah Drury, James Chesley, Benjamin Bullard, Henry Crooks and Timothy Gay fought in the Revolutionary War. And many men saw service in the Civil War.

The brief records of the early families allied with Crooks family are full of human interest. Darby Field made a name for himself sometime in the 1630's by being "the first white man and Irishman to climb Mt. Washington".

Henry Langstaff, James and Thomas Chesley lived to be 100 years old. Some men were well fixed with this world's good, and some died in poverty. Some were shot by Indians and some lost their minds and had to be cared for. Some were deeply religious - in fact, in those early days a church member was about the only man to hold town offices, and some were military. And all of them were adventurous.

Hugh Drury and Valentine Hill belonged to "The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston" which was a great honor. Hatevil Nutter could have gone down in history on the strength of his name alone, but it is said that he was well named, and faithfully fulfilled his duties as Elder of the Church.

We can't help but be thrilled by these stories of men who settled this country and whose blood still flows through our veins, thinned tho it may be. Daniel Webster said in a speech in 1845 "It is wise for us to recur to the history of our ancestors. They who are regardless of their ancestors do not perform their duty to the world".

The search for the ancestry of Elizabeth Brewster and Ruth Draper, wives of Thomas and John R. Chesley, respectively was unsuccessful, but it is hoped further search may be done as it is quite possible that the Brewster line would connect with the Mayflower family by that name.

Much appreciation is expressed to Mrs. Crooks for her help in this genealogy, and to Mrs. Harry Crooks, Mrs. Hattie Crooks, Mrs. Clementine McKay, Mrs. Fern Bergstrom, Mrs. John Meyers, Ross Elliott Mrs. John Alink and others who have sent in much data.

The maternal lines of Judith Carol Crooks have been fully traced, and the information is to be found in various genealogies and unpublished manuscripts.

It is to be hoped that this brief history of the families will inspire many of the descendants to follow up their lines and so make a more complete record of each individual person. With the many changes taking place at the present it is important that family records are kept for the future generations.

A Brief History of the town of

by
Mrs. D.O.Crooks.

In 1873, David O Crooks with his parents, John Nelson and Caroline (Chesley) Crooks, his sister Harriet Elizabeth and brothers Henry and Will, came to Dakota Territory and settled on the site of the present town of Crooks, S.D.

D.O.Crooks, then a lad of 19, secured a pre-emption and timber claim in the SW  $\frac{1}{4}$  of Sec.2, Benton Twp. Range 50, in Minnehaha Co.

The family were among the pioneers, moving here by ox-team. They built a log house and stable for their first shelters. For the next three years a large number of emigrants moved in and settled nearby; and work was exchanged among the neighbors. Thus the farming community of Crooks was begun.

The first Post-Office was secured in 1876, and Ole Nelson who lived about a mile south-west was the first postmaster. The office was called "New Hope" after the town in Wisconsin where Mr. Nelson had formerly lived.

The first school meeting was held on the 29th of Feb. 1876 in District No.41. Prairie fires raged and the grasshoppers destroyed everything that was growing.

On May 11, this same year large numbers of maple trees were planted by John N. and his son D.O.Crooks.

The first annual school meeting was held in Dist.44, on Mar.3, 1877, and on April 20, the first school was held in Dist. 42. Lydia Evans was the teacher.

This same year D.O.Crooks and father set out 6000 cottonwood cuttings brought from the Dan Lito farm four miles south; and on June 14 D.O.Crooks signed $15.00 for the bridge across the Sioux River at Davenport. The grasshoppers again appeared and destroyed the crops.

On Oct.8, 1877 Ole Nelson resigned as Postmaster and John Nelson Crooks signed a $1000.00 bond for Lorenzo Aldrich who was appointed to succeed Mr. Aldrich. This same day Mr. Aldrich who was a good shot brought down five geese with one shot. On Nov.21, 1877 D.O.Crooks assisted in looking over the mail for the first time.

THE LIFE OF SAMUEL JOHNSON
BY JAMES BOSWELL

CHAPTER I

JOHNSON was born at Lichfield, in the county of Stafford, on the 9th of September, 1709. His father, Michael Johnson, was a bookseller, and his mother, Katherine, the daughter of a farmer. He was the second of five children. His education was at first at the grammar school of Lichfield, and then at St. John's College, Oxford.

He was a very early reader, and was particularly fond of the works of the English poets. He was also a very early student of the law, and was called to the bar at the age of twenty-two.

Crooks Town History.

ii.

A meeting was held at the Ole Nelson house on Jan 19, 1878 to see about having the town surveyed; and on May 6th school opened in Dist. No. 44, in W.A. Crooks' sod house, half a mile north. Miss Lillie Darrow was the teacher.

Mar. 9, 1878. The Scandinavian Church by the Sioux River was blown down. In August theoppers again cleaned up the crops and gardens.

On Oct. 18, 1878 John Nelson Crooks proved up on his homestead. His house was the first frame house to be built in the town. The lumber for the upright part was brought from Sibley Iowa by ox-team and the trip took three or four days.

In Dec. 1878 a well was dug and atoned up and a bucket and rope were used to haul the water from it. This well was located a short distance south of Mr. Crooks home.

The location of the postoffice was changed on Apr. 24, 1878 to the home of W.A. Crooks.

On Jan. 17, 1880 a meeting was held in the new school house to organize a vigilance Committee as the James and Younger Brothers who had robbed the bank at Northfield Minn. were known to be in the vicinity.

Prairie fires raged in April and much damage was done. John Magnuson who lived a mile northeast lost his stable, grain, pigs sheep and turkeys. Peter Ryg was burned to death. He was the first person to be buried in the Benton Lutheran Churchyard. A Mr. Baker was badly burned at the same time.

School began again in Dist. no. 44 on May 17, and Miss Metta Barnes was the teacher. On June 5th W.A. Crooks finished the building of his new house, and a picnic and dance was held in the evening to celebrate the event.

The town suffered a real loss on Sept. 24 1881 in the death of John Nelson Crooks when he suffered a heart attack while at work in the hayfield. He is buried in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery Sioux Falls. His wife, Caroline Matilda (Chesley) (Foster) Crooks survived him many years, and died in Crooks April 25 1905.

D.O. Crooks now took care of both his father's farm and his own and lived with his mother. On Jan. 24, 1887 he married Miss Nettie Smallwood, a schoolteacher in the County. She had come to visit her uncle, John Tyler, and stayed on to teach school for three years before becoming the wife of Mr. Crooks.

In the fall of 1889 D.O. Crooks moved to his own farm where he had during the summer months built a five room house. This was the year that Dakota Territory was divided and admitted to the Union as North and South Dakota.

Much interest was taken about this time in music and concerts were often given by the bands which had been formed in Baltic, Lyons, Renner and Crooks.

Casper Barwin moved his family to Crooks from Chicago in 1879 and his son Ed Barwin started a general store one block north of D.O. Crooks' store and Ole Brende was the clerk.

In June 1904 the New Hope Creamery was built where the Johnson store now stands. A thriving business was done here. Frank H. Floyd was the moving spirit in the enterprise and G.A. Crooks, son of W.A. Crooks was put in as manager.

This building was burned to the ground on Aug. 27, 1905 - the cause was supposed to be from spontaneous combustion. This was rebuilt in Sept. 1906 by Mr. Floyd and the farmers, and was located a block northeast of the old site. It did not begin to do business until Jan. of the next year when it operated about two years.

A barber shop and pool hall was started Sept. 13, 1905 by R.W.E. Cleft. D.O. Crooks bought the Schoolhouse in Dist. 41, and moved the building by team to the ground where the first creamery was located. Here he started a general store and though crowded did a good business for several years.

The produce was hauled by team to Sioux Falls and the groceries and other goods were brought back - taking a whole day to make the trip.

After two or three years D.O. Crooks built the two-story store building and his first clerk was Ole Brende. The Post-Office and telephone switch board were moved to this building and the Hall over it was large enough to accommodate all the people at this time and was used for meetings as well as for skating and dancing.

In 1904 the town site was platted and the South Dakota Central Railroad tracks were extended through the place. A town well was drilled by Fred Aldrich, the well-driller of the community. This water was piped all over town by D.O. Crooks and his son Roy at an expense of about $3000.00 and was a gift to the town. This inexhaustible supply of pure water may well be regarded as a living monument to the memory of the founder of the town.

Mr. Floyd, manager of the creamery eventually took his departure from the state and it became necessary to re-organize the company and on the 24th day of Sept. 1909 articles were filed by D.O. Crooks, J.E. Sater and F.H.O. Perserson for the incorporation of the New Hope Cooperative Creamery Co. with a capital stock of $5000.00.

Crooks Town History.

This creamery was well equipped for business and received an average of 18,000 pounds of milk a month. At the National Creamery Buttermakers Meeting held in Sioux Falls, S.D. on Jan. 11, 1911 this creamery was awarded a premium. The butter from the new Hope Creamery was shipped to New York where it received "gilt edged prices". E.A. Crooks was buttermaker. Later J.F. Wicker and Pete Meyer were also managers.

About 1904, soon after the railroad was built, the town of Crooks enjoyed a building boom. Lots were sold and a number of houses were built. The blacksmith shop was moved north two blocks near the store owned by Ed Barwin.

D.O. Crooks built the Hotel Building and a dwelling house on the north side of town which he gave to his son A.R. Crooks on his twenty-first birthday. This house A.R. rented for a few years and finally sold it and built on lots farther south.

After the town-site was platted in 1904 the place was named CROOKS in honor of the family. D.O. Crooks acted as depot and express agent. He was stockholder in the Farmers' Lumber and Elevator Co., and president of the Crooks State Bank, in addition to being owner of the water-works and lighting plant.

He was a member of the Township Board for six years, and was postmaster for twelve years, retiring in 1913. He was school treasurer of his district for sixteen years.

In the History of Winnebago County may be found brief sketches of many other pioneers who helped in the founding of Crooks and other nearby towns, and descendants of many of these families are still carrying on at home while many others have scattered to various parts of the country.

THE HISTORY OF THE

The history of the world is a long and tedious story, but it is one that is full of interest and variety. It is a story of the human race, of its struggles, its triumphs, and its failures. It is a story of the great empires, the great wars, and the great discoveries. It is a story of the human mind, of its power, its limitations, and its potential. It is a story of the human heart, of its joys, its sorrows, and its hopes. It is a story of the human spirit, of its courage, its faith, and its love. It is a story of the human race, of its past, its present, and its future. It is a story of the human condition, of its meaning, its purpose, and its value. It is a story of the human experience, of its richness, its complexity, and its beauty. It is a story of the human world, of its wonders, its mysteries, and its marvels. It is a story of the human journey, of its challenges, its rewards, and its triumphs. It is a story of the human quest, of its goals, its dreams, and its aspirations. ## THE CROOKS FAMILY.

The Ancestry of the Crooks Family was Scotch-Presbyterian. They were originally dwellers in Argyllshire in the west part of Scotland.

From there they went to Antrim and Londonderry in the North of Ireland as early as 1613.

One hundred years later 120 families came to America & the Crooks Family among them, part of the group landing at Portland Maine and the remainder going to Boston.

A large number of these went northward and settled Londonderry,erry and Derry in New Hampshire, and other pioneer towns, while others in Hopkinton, Mass. in the winter of 1713.

Among these was SAMUEL CROOKS who was the progenitor of the CROOKS family of Hopkinton, Mass.

There is a little data about Samuel Crooks in the Hopkinton Town History. It is believed he had two sons, Abraham and John. The former remained in Hopkinton and his descendants lived there for some generations.

John Crooks, son of Samuel Crooks of Hopkinton, Mass. married Nov. 7, 1731 Mary Drury b June 1722 (abt) dau of Micah and Abigail Drury.

In the P.E. Historical and Genealogical Register, Vol. 14 is the following record of the children of John and Mary Crooks. It is evident that the first three are not the children of our John and Mary.

Jane b May 30, 1740
Mary b June 15, 1742.
John b Nov. 19, 1744.

Sarah b Nov. 1, 1752.
+ Henry b Mar. 15, 1754.
Uriah b Oct. 12, 1756.

Ann b Jan. 22, 1746-50 dau of John and Sarah.

Henry Crooks, son of John and Mary Drury Crooks, was born in Hopkinton, Mass. Mar. 15, 1754, and died Nov. 25, 1845. in Coaticook, P.C.. He mar. before the close of the revolutionary war, Elizabeth Barrett, dau of Thornton Barrett.

The family then went westward and settled in Columbia Co. Wis. It is probable that the Chesley family went to Wis. with the Crooks family, or about the same time. Other branches of the Crooks family settled in Wisconsin also.

There is record of only child born to John and Betsey Crooks.

She died April 25, 1905, in Crooks S.D.

John Nelson Crooks went to Columbia Co. Wis. with his parents who died in that place. He later moved to Black Earth in Dane Co. where his children continued their education.

In 1867 the family removed to Bremer Co, Iowa and lived there for six years when in 1873 they moved farther west, this time settling in what is now the town of Crooks first named New Hope, S.D. Here John Nelson homesteaded.

With him came his wife and sons Will A., Henry N., David Orin, and Daughter Harriet Elizabeth. David O. secured a pre-emption and timber claim in McCook Co. and the town of Crooks now stands on part of the pre-emption claim in Mannehaha Co.

John Nelson Crooks served in the Civil War as private in Capt. Richard A. Warrenham's Co. (c) 4th Regt of Wis. Inf. Vol. Enrolled on Feb. 22, 1865 for one year. Was discharged Nov. 1, 1865 at St. Louis. His discharge Papers are in the possession of Mrs. D.O. Crooks, and his discription is as follows: "6 ft tall, fair complexion blue eyes and brown hair. Farmer."

The family was among the pioneer families of the State and established the home here when the work of progress and improvement was scarcely begun. From that time to

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a story of growth and change. From the first settlers to the present day, the nation has evolved through various stages of development. The early years were marked by exploration and settlement, followed by a period of rapid expansion and industrialization. The American Revolution and the Civil War were pivotal moments in the nation's history, shaping its identity and values.

The American Revolution was a turning point in the nation's history. It was a struggle for independence from British rule, fought between 1775 and 1783. The revolution led to the creation of the United States as a sovereign nation, with its own government and constitution. The Civil War, fought between 1861 and 1865, was a conflict over the issue of slavery. It resulted in the abolition of slavery and the preservation of the Union.

The American Civil War was a conflict that shaped the nation's future. It was a struggle over the issue of slavery, fought between the Union and the Confederacy. The war resulted in the abolition of slavery and the preservation of the Union. The war also led to the passage of the Reconstruction Amendments, which guaranteed equal rights for all citizens.

The Reconstruction Amendments were a landmark in American history. They guaranteed equal rights for all citizens, regardless of race or ethnicity. The amendments were passed in the years following the Civil War, during a period of Reconstruction. The amendments were a response to the demands of the freed slaves and the abolitionists.

PHILIP CHESLEY, the progenitor of the family in America, came with Edward and William Hilton and Thomas Roberts in 1623 from London and settled at Hilton's Point, N.H.

It was the design of Capt. Wiggan to found a city on the hill-top of Dover Neck, giving to each settler three and a half acres for a home lot; while lots and pieces of marsh were assigned on the shores of Little and Great Bays, which could be easily reached by boat. Thus by the year 1640 much of the best land along the shores was in possession of the Settlers.

In 1675 began the first depredations of the Indians in Maine and New Hampshire. On April 23, 1675 land was "laid out to Thomas Chesley ten acres of land bought of the town at the head of his father's land" . . . . . Here the Chesley Garrison was built, about half way between Dover Neck and the Piscataqua Bridge. The Old Chesley Burial Ground was just north of this spot, on more elevated land.

The Indians burned two Chesley homes and killed two men. And tradition has it that a Miss Randall was shot while returning from "The Falls" and died while trying to escape into a barn. Her escort, a Mr. Chesley was so greatly grieved at her death that he declared that he would spend the rest of his life fighting the savages. He soon had an opportunity to kill eleven out of twelve and the tradition properly closes with the statement that he himself was later killed by his foes.

(See Durham N.H. Town History for more about the Chesley Family.)

Many other families of interest helped settle Oyster River now Durham N.H. and those who are allied with the Chesley family are briefly mentioned elsewhere in this pamphlet.

PHILIP CHESLEY was born in England and came to America in 1623, and was in Oyster River, N.H. in 1648. He died in 1674. His first wife was Joanna, his 2d was Elizabeth who survived him. It is said that their share of exciting records would "fill a movie" -- "an alternating current of honorable and impulsive activities".

The Chesley Family.

Thomas Chesley, son of Philip and Elizabeth, was born 1644 and was killed by the Indians Nov. 15, 1697. He was married Aug. 22, 1663 by Mr. Ed Hilton to Elizabeth Thomas who was still living in 1701.

The parents of Elizabeth are not mentioned though there is record of a brother.

Thomas held many town offices, was selectman in 1688-95.

Children: Thomas b June 4, 1664. George b 1671. Joseph b 1673. Elizabeth. Susannah. Sarah. Mary.

Joseph Chesley, son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Thomas) Chesley b 1673, d Jan. 7, 1731. m (1) Hannah Buss dau of Rev. John Buss. m (2) Sarah Cutt, who outlived him.

May 1743 Joseph and James Chesley of Durham sold to their brother Thomas their right in the estate of Valentine Hill, late of Dover.

Joseph Chesley bought of Sampson and Temperance Doe, M March 26, 1707 land lying at the waterside in Lubberland. This was at the head of Great Bay and he gave his name to Chesley's Island.

His will was dated Apr. 13, 1730 and names his wife and the following children:

Ensign Joseph, b abt 1711. Thomas. James, m Sarah. Benjamin b June 5, 1717.

Capt. Thomas Chesley (Joseph, Thomas, Philip) son of Joseph and Hannah (Buss) Chesley b abt 1713, d 1778, m Mary dau of Samuel Hill. She died 1801.

In the list of names of those who had land in the first division at Durham are the names of Thomas, Thomas Jr. Joseph and Philip Chesley, also Valentine Hill.

Thomas Chesley was on a Committee "to agree with the owners of the privilege that is suitable to build a grist mill on". On Monday Aug. 15, 1763 it was voted that Thomas Chesley be on a committee to apply to the General Court to make an account to lay a tax on the land in New Durham, and to make the propositors pay all the taxes already voted.

Capt. Thomas Chesley would have been about 60 years old at the time of the Revolutionary War and it is quite possible that he saw service, but no record is found in the New Hampshire Rolls and no reason for his being called "Captain" is found.

The Smallwood Family.

Nothing is known about the ancestry of Henry Smallwood. He died at the age of 40 in the spring of 1866, two months before his daughter Nettie was born. She was brought up by her mother's people, the Tylors, and remembers nothing of her father's family.

Some research, however, brings forth some information about the Smallwood family in Virginia, where they were among the earliest settlers. A record of 1623 is found of one Randall Smallwood who was living in Jamestown and was Provost Marshall there. The family has been prominent in Virginia to the present day.

In the DeWitt County (Illinois) History is found a record which may be of special interest to the Smallwood family, as follows:

Farmerious and Deborah Smallwood natives of Jefferson Co. Virginia, migrated to Ross Co, Ohio. They were the parents of 15 children. George, the 2d child, was born March 21, 1810. The family removed to Illinois in 1825 and settled in what is now Macou Co. Here George married Mary Ann Brown, and had one child that died. There is also mention of Armina Smallwood who married John Simpson.

It is more than probable that Henry Smallwood was a younger brother of George, and no doubt a further research would bring forth data necessary for proof.

1. HENRY SMALLWOOD of Freeport, Ill. was born about 1826. He died in Decorah, Iowa in the spring of 1866. On April 6, 1851 he married Eliza Tyler, dau of James and Lucy Tyler. She was born 1834 in Marden, Kent Co. Eng, and died Aug. 4, 1912 at the home of her daughter Nettie (Mrs. D.C. Crooks) in Crooks S.D. and is buried in Decorah, Iowa.

Eliza Tyler Crooks m (2) 1871 Abraham Aikey of Decorah by whom she had two children. She m (3) Calvin Brown who died in 1901 and is buried in Decorah.

18. Harold Ross Elliott, (Maria, Henry) son of Arthur and Maria (Smallwood) Elliott. -- -- (as he tells it)

Here is the "Twig" for the Tree from the folks way down "deep in the heart of T-K-X-A-S.

Harold Ross Elliott:

Born: August 18, 1899. In the Southeast bedroom of a farmhouse on the southeast 320 acres of his father's farm, Hanson County, near the flag station of the Milwaukee Railroad, Hard. S. D. (Dad said he was busy cuttin' oats but he took half a day off for the occasion.)

Married: Mar 9, 1921, at Dallas, Texas. (Semi-elopement)
Her dad sure raised hell.

Velma Pearl Benton, born Dec. 31, 1902. In a house near the stock yards and round house at Caldwell, Kansas. The youngest of a family of six girls and one boy.

Married: Same place, same date as above, and her dad still raised Hell.

Children:

60. Don Kenneth Elliott, b June 25, 1923, Ft. Worth. Sure was a hot day in Texas. Survived the many perils of city life of this generation and after finishing a high school term enlisted in the Marine Corps to finish his education, and at the same time do his part to defend our homes against invasion of those who desire to share with us.

61. Virginia Ruth Elliott, born Feb. 9, 1926, Ft. Worth Texas. Sure was a cold day in Texas. Finishes her high school education this year. Very much interested in athletics and acrobatics. Also stenography. From her present opinion of the opposite sex at this time, I gather that she intends to be a spinster, but we know that girls sometimes change their minds.

So here we are- happy as can be, just poor folks a tryin' to get along, and a wishin' that every one in this troubled world of ours could be as well satisfied as we, at this time.

(Many thanks - Deep-Downers')

THE FUTURE

The future of the world is a subject of great interest to all men. It is a subject which has occupied the minds of philosophers, statesmen, and poets for centuries. The future is a subject which is full of mystery and uncertainty. It is a subject which is full of hope and despair. It is a subject which is full of life and death. It is a subject which is full of love and hate. It is a subject which is full of everything that makes life worth living.

The Tyler Family.

With his parents he went to Green Co. Wis. and in 1853 he moved to Iowa locating in Winneshiek Co. near Decorah. He was a successful farmer, a straightforward industrious man who took a deep interest in the social and political advancement of the country, and he was prominent in the development of Winneshiek Co.

He played the violin from the time he was 18 years old and his father and mother were both fine musicians. He wore a beard which at one time was auburn. His hair was black and he was bald very young as were his parents and brothers.

Starting with three acres of land at the time of his death he owned 366 acres. with eleven cleared. He had an eleven room house a large barn and many good farm buildings, and sheds. He always had a good orchard and kept bees.

THEORY OF THE EARTH AND ITS HISTORY

The theory of the earth and its history is a branch of geology which deals with the origin and development of the earth and its various parts. It is a science which seeks to explain the processes which have shaped the earth and its features, and to determine the time and sequence of these processes.

The theory of the earth and its history is based on the study of the earth's rocks and fossils, and on the principles of geology. It is a science which is constantly developing, as new discoveries are made and new theories are proposed.

The theory of the earth and its history is a science which is of great importance to the human race, as it helps us to understand the earth and its history, and to determine the future of the earth and its inhabitants.

Allied Families.

The Nutter family.

HATEVIL MUTTER, the progenitor of the family in New Hampshire was born in Eng. probably Bristol, about 1630. He came to this country with Capt. Wiggan in 1633 and helped found Dover Neck.

The family came from Lancashire Eng. They were master Forresters and Keepers of the Chase of of Frawden in the 15th Century.

Hatevil Mutter was an Elder in the First Church of Dover which he helped organize in 1638 and as ruling Elder of the Puritan Church he had the duty to assist the pastor in the government of the church.

It is said that he was a rich and very respectable man and filled various offices of the church and state. He disliked the Quakers and was conspicuous in the persecution of them.

He died in Jan. 2, 1674/5 "in a good old age" m before 1630

The Thompson Family.

William Thompson is first mentioned as having a grant of land in Dover in 1655. His descendants are called Scotchmen.

The indications are that he was one of those persons taken by Oliver Cromwell at the Battle of Dunbar, and sent to Boston.

In 1659 William Thompson was presented to Court "For rebellion against his father- and mother-in-law" and gave bond for good behavior. He is said to have married the dau of John White, and he died in 1676.

Settlement of estate in "Maine Recorder":

"There is fifty acres of land in Dover Township about Chutchechah wch he gave to his sons that live at Dover vidgt. William Tomson, and Robert Tomson and John White.

William Tomson living with Richard Otis - apprentice - 16 years old.

James Tomson, a lame boy, not placed out.

Robert Tomson, 13 years old, living with Toby Hanson - apprenticed.

Alexander Tomson, 8 Years old. Not disposed of.

Judith Tomson, 2 years old, not disposed of."

John Tomson gave bond in 1684 for proper administration of his father's estate and to provide for James, his lame and impotent brother. But James proved to be abundantly able not only to care for himself but for his large family as well.

John Thompson, son of William, settled at Oyster River, N.H.

He m Between 1678-1680 Sarah dau of John and Mary (Field) Woodman. His will was dated Apr. 24, 1733, and probated July 24, 1734. His wife Sarah survived him.
